

CITY NEWS.

Wallace Miesse is visiting relatives at Lancaster, O.

Miss Clara Heckerman returned last week from Chicago.

Mrs. M. J. Ewing is visiting her son, Dr. Will Ewing, in Dayton.

Mrs. Harry Ullery left Monday for their future home at Mattoon, Ill.

D. W. Shiveley and wife are enjoying a pleasure trip through Michigan.

Miss Ella Ault and mother are visiting among friends and relatives in Indiana.

A. J. Landis and wife have gone to Michigan for an outing of several weeks.

Ansonia votes on local option next Saturday. Two years ago the town was voted dry.

Quite a number of Greenville families are enjoying outings in different parts of Michigan.

Mrs. Will Lehman of Cincinnati is visiting her parents, Wm. S. Gorton and wife, this city.

Mrs. James Reis and daughter Helen have returned from an extended visit with relatives in Iowa.

Will Gerstner and daughter, Miss Laura, of Chicago, are the guests of Mrs. Margaret Gerstner, West Water street.

Martin B. Trainor and family returned Tuesday evening from Wauwausee Lake, Ind., where they enjoyed a two weeks' outing.

"Harry H.," the fast trotter owned by C. O. Hoffman of Arcanum, won the 2:24 trot at the New Castle (Ind.) Fair on last Thursday in three straight heats and was afterwards sold to parties in Toledo for $2500.

The remains of James O. Barrett, who died of typhoid fever last Friday at Shawnee, Okla., were interred in this city Monday afternoon, after services at the home of his parents, M. T. Barrett and wife, on Gray avenue. He was aged 22 years.

The heirs of Clark Henkle's first wife, who reside in the west, have brought suit in the courts here to declare a trust and for an accounting, they claiming the estate he left, valued at about $90,000, came from his deceased wife by inheritance and that they are entitled to share in it.

S. N. Underwood, a farm hand in the employ of Ed. Biechler, west of the city, was arrested one day last week by Officers Williams and Bell for stealing money from his employer. Several pieces of marked money were found on him when arrested. He plead guilty before Mayor Maher and was fined $20 and costs, which he paid, and also returned to Mr. Biechler the money and gold watch he had stolen from him. He said he couldn't resist taking things whenever the opportunity presented itself.

Mayor Maher has vetoed the Broadway bridge ordinance as passed by council Monday a week and his reasons therefor are published on the first page of this paper. There is, of course, a difference of opinion on this matter, but we believe that most citizens are with the Mayor in the belief that a good, substantial and serviceable structure can be erected at this point for several thousand dollars less than the plan accepted by the Council and Board of Public Service, for which they propose adding an additional bonded indebtedness of $26,500 upon the city. What the city can save in the construction of this bridge will go a great ways, if not entirely cover the cost of that sewage disposal plant the city must soon erect and which, no doubt, will call for another bond issue. Whether the Council will pass the ordinance over the Mayor's veto remains to be seen.

The Great Darke County Fair, a place where people may meet and exchange views, study the improved methods, meet old friends and make new acquaintances. Its purpose is to keep abreast with advanced agriculture and the trades that our community will be able to take front rank and cope with the revolutionizing influences and changing customs that are annually taking place, and the directors feel that no effort within their means has been spared to make this fair a success, both financially and for the pleasure of the patrons and visitors, it will be their endeavor to deal fairly with all exhibitors that they may receive their approval and at the same time merit the best wishes of the citizens of the county for the success of the Association.

And remember Soldiers' day, Wednesday, August 28, 1907, and every soldier not receiving a ticket for Wednesday will write the Secretary—they want all to come.

Dr. Landman, the Oculist, will be at the Wallace House, 123 E. 5th St. on Thursday, the 22nd inst.

Gettysburg.

The days are growing perceptibly shorter.

As the time approaches everybody is looking forward with a goodly degree of interest to our great fair, which it is hoped will out rank any of its predecessors in magnitude and quality. Of course, we will all be there to witness the new features and improvements.

C. J. Miller and family moved into his new home, just completed, on Dorwin street.

J. H. Browder moved his family here last week, so as to be ready to superintend our schools for the ensuing year.

Not a few of our people visited the hub yesterday and incidentally took in the parade of Robinson's circus. Something of this kind always interests and will get a move on the average citizen, if not for any greater motive than to afford the children the opportunity to see strange sights.

Rev. J. A. Hoffman of Fremont, who visited his wife's parents here the latter part of last week, returned home last Saturday.

One week from next Sunday night, Rev. Deal announced, that he would preach on the subject whether crime is on the increase in this nation. Let there be a good attendance at this service as I think Rev. Deal will be able to shed some light on this important and much discussed topic.

Mrs. Malinda B. Powell of Upper Alton, Ill., is a visitor here among her relatives for a short time.

George Eskey and family of Springfield and H. H. Eskey of Indianapolis are visitors here for a few days among relatives and also to attend the burial of their father, Henry Eskey, a former resident of this place who died and was buried at Covington last week, aged eighty-six years.

Many of our people attended the Warner reunion, held last week at West Milton.

Mart Warner and wife of Covington were visitors here last Saturday and Sunday with his brother Lee's family.

Christian Endeavor Meeting.

A meeting of the Executive committee of the Darke County, Christian Endeavor Union was held at the U. B. church, Greenville, Ohio, Thursday afternoon, August 8. At this meeting J. W. Morrison, president of the Union, tendered his resignation, as he expects to be absent from the county during the coming winter; his resignation was accepted, a vote of thanks extended him for his efficient service, and the vice president, Dr. C. I. Stephens, of Ansonia, Ohio, was made president, and C. M. White, of Greenville, Ohio, vice president. Other items of interest were discussed.

Pioneer Meeting.

The pioneer or old peoples' meeting will be held on Sunday, August 18, 1907, in Jesse Woods' grove, the usual place of former meetings. The people will assemble at 9 a.m. and the meeting will continue throughout the day. Come with something good to talk about and don't forget to bring well filled baskets and enjoy the day with us. Come one, come all. By order of SAMUEL METZCAR, Pres. JAMES MCCABE, Sec'y.

Antiquity of Horseshoes.

Horseshoeing is very ancient. It is represented on a coin of Tarantum, south Italy, about 300 B. C. Iron and bronze horseshoes have been found in tumuli in France, Germany, Belgium and England. It is of course impossible to designate the first instance in which a bronze or iron horseshoe was used.

Little Foxes and Little Hunters.

First: Among my tender vines I say A little fox named—By-and-by.

Answer: Then set upon him, quick, I say, The swift young hunter—Right-away.

Second: Around each tender vine I plant I find the little fox—I can't.

Answer: Then, fast as ever hunter ran, Chase him afar from vines and I can't.

Third: No use in trying—Jags and whines This fox among my tender vines.

Answer: Then drive him low and drive him high, With this good hunter named—I'll try!

Fourth: Among the vines in my small lot, Creeps in the young fox—I forgot.

Answer: Then hunt him out to his den, With—I will not forget—again!

Fifth: The little fox that, hidden there, Among my vines is—I don't care.

Answer: Then let I'm-sorry—hunter true— Chase him afar from vines and you.

The Five: What mischief making foxes! Yet Among your vines they often get.

In concert: But, now their hunters' names you know, Just drive them out and keep them so. —Philadelphia Record.

Fixing the Blame.

"Don't you think automobile accidents are inexcusably numerous?" "Of course I do," answered the motor enthusiast. "The public ought to learn to dodge quicker."—Washington Star.

The Waterfall.

Greene—You often hear of the river falling, but it never seems to hurt itself.

Callow—Well, you see, it always falls in its bed.—Kansas City Times.

To Remove Rust.

For removing rust from polished steel an effective mixture is made by taking ten parts of tin putty, eight parts of prepared buckhorn and 250 parts of spirits of wine. These ingredients are mixed to a soft paste and rubbed in on the surface until the rust disappears.—Engineer.

Baby Bands.

Take the best parts of soft old woolen underwear and cut two pieces 7 by 8 inches. Stitch the sides together with embroidery silk. Take two pieces of ribbon four inches long for shoulder straps. This makes a fine cheap band.

Preparing Cattle For Market.

In preparing cattle for shipping every precaution and the greatest care should be exercised by the feeder or shipper so that the animals will reach the market in prime condition.

If the steers are being finished on grass and grain, they should be taken off the pasture and put in a dry lot at least twenty-four hours or, better still, forty-eight hours before shipping and fed only half their usual allowance of grain, with all the hay they will eat. In some cases it is advisable to feed no grain, thus giving the animals to eat considerable bulky food, such as hay. The whole secret, if there is such a thing, of shipping cattle successfully is to get them full of dry food just previous to the time they are placed on the cars and market—that is, the less moisture the food contains in proportion to dry material the better, because as a rule a steer that is largely filled with water has a tendency to scour and thus show up gamut and bad on the market. Some unscrupulous shippers have a custom of salting their cattle, so that they drink large amounts of water and fill up on the same. This is something that is usually very detrimental to the sale of the cattle. It is useless for the shipper to think that he can fool the buyer by such a practice. By feeding a large quantity of salt one is apt to bring on a fevered condition in the animal's stomach or digestive organs.

When the cattle are taken off pasture they should be put in as dry a yard as possible, so that they may keep tolerably clean. Do not leave the ordering of the car until the last minute, but rather order it, so that it can be properly bedded and a good supply of hay put in its racks. Straw, of course, makes the best kind of bedding one can use. However, the most essential thing is that of supplying plenty of whatever is available. To simply half bed a car in many cases is like cutting the price of the cattle, because they become dirty, and much of their finish and quality are apparently lost.

There is nothing better than good, sweet hay for cattle before loading or in transit. Some shippers advise feeding a small quantity of grain; but, as a rule, grain, especially corn, has a tendency to fever the animals and cause them to drink too much water. Thus, all things considered, the less grain that is fed just previous to and during shipment the better. When the cattle are ready for shipment, they should be driven over the scales and the weights recorded. Then they should be driven very carefully to the stockyards or station where they are to be shipped.

As a rule, about twenty good sized steers will fill a car; however, one should not rely on any given number, but, rather, go by the amount of space in the car. That is, always fill the car just as full as it will hold of cattle of a uniform size. By allowing the animals too much space they will push, fight and jam each other so that they will shrink considerably more than if they are crowded enough to keep them quiet. If the shipping takes place in midsummer, when it is very warm, care must be taken to supply the animals with plenty of water on the car. —W. J. Kennedy, Iowa State College, in Farmers Advocate.

Come in and give us your subscription, and if you have a friend living at a distance who would appreciate the news from old Darke, you couldn't do a better act than to make him a present of the Journal for one year. Friends, give this matter a careful thought.

No subscriptions taken unless accompanied with the cash.

Well, by far the most particular part of all your plans is to make sure that the right paper goes on the walls. The cost of the paper is worth considering—but style, newness, suitability is your main lookout. For it is quite possible for you to pay us 5c a roll and get new designs, while at other places you may pay as high as 40c a roll, and still have patterns away behind the times. The hint should be plain enough. We've a whole NEW stock to show you—a bright, dependable lot of paper. Wall paper that you can buy from in safety without knowing anything at all about Wall Paper quality. We are really anxious to have you see it, for we feel that we can make it profitable for you to do your buying here.
